VOLUME 56

A TOUCH OF PEACE has ignited the flame in this man to fulfill his religious duties during masses.

READY AT 6:00 A.M., Mr. Ferguson has the faculty room all to himself preparing his lessons for the day.

SALUTE to a Special Phantom

After twenty years of contributing a great deal of knowledge, humor, encouragement, and friendship to people at Cathedral High School, Mr. Phillip Ferguson has decided to leave to pursue a more private and relaxing life. With an upcoming wedding in July, Mr. Ferguson looks forward to his married life in his new home in Nevada.

Mr. Ferguson graduated from Cathedral in 1957. For two and a half years, he studied psychology at Los Angeles City College. He joined the United States Army in 1961 and served for three years, half of which was spent in Okinawa, Japan. After his service, he got married for the first time and then finished college at California State University, Los Angeles, where he majored in history (western civilization, Asian history, Russian history, and U.S. history).

In 1967, at a friend's suggestion, Mr. Ferguson came back to his Alma Mater to pass his learning on to his fellow Phantoms. He has taught social studies and English and has been the respected moderator of Circle Cee. In class, Mr. Ferguson has seriously educated and disciplined his students. To help them get a vivid picture of what the lesson is all about, he accompanies lectures with various visual aides. As moderator, he sees to it that order and cleanliness is maintained during and after breaks and assemblies. Although Mr. Ferguson feels sad to transfer to Carson City, he just wants a "quieter lifestyle" to get away from the madness of Los Angeles. "I have no regrets from having taught students here. Cathedral is my love, my life... but I must leave the big city life. I will miss the faculty and the kids a lot." This very inspirational faculty member, however, does not plan to end his teaching career. He plans to continue teaching in either a Catholic or a public school in Reno.

The school will miss having Mr. Ferguson around, his smile, his jokes, yet, Cathedral will remember this dedicated alumnus for his deeds and for his message:

"Have faith in yourself; have faith in Christ. Treasure the times you have here. Don't be afraid to make mistakes, to take chances. Don't give up... and don't be afraid to love life... because it's beautiful."

"BETTER GET SERIOUS, GUYS," Mr. Ferguson tells his western civilization class to calm the students down and have them get the facts down on paper.

A LEGEND to Remember

Thirty-three years of teaching makes Mr. Victor Balzano the faculty member with most seniority. For over two decades at Cathedral High School, he has enlivened the spirit of the school with his encouragement and devotion. The school will definitely miss seeing this special family member next year. Mr. Balzano has decided to retire, making 1987 his final year to teach.

Mr. Victor Balzano graduated from Franklin High School in 1946. He pursued his college studies at Glendale Junior College for one semester and at St. Mary's College for one and a half semesters majoring in history. He then served with the United States Army for two years during the Korean War.

When Mr. Balzano returned to the United States, a couple of his friends from St. Mary's College told him about an opening for a teacher at Cathedral. In September 1954, he became a member of the Cathedral family. He has taught social studies ever since, accompanying his lectures with factual information from textbooks and with personal experiences. He enlivens his daily lessons with jokes that perfectly fit into the topic of the day. Known for his "Wish Book" assignments, "Double-Bagger" tests, and his "Victory Dance," Mr. Balzano has encouraged his students to do their reading assignments and perform well on exams. He gives his students all the opportunity they can use to get A's. Those who take full advantage of this receive commendation and further challenge from Mr. Balzano.

Asked why he wants to retire, Mr. Balzano simply says that he is "tired of teaching." He says Cathedral is the biggest part of his life, but he confesses that he just wants to relax. "I've been looking forward to my retirement. I will enjoy it." Before he goes, however, he wants Cathedral students to know that they should "always be proud to be Phantoms. We are not taking a back seat to anybody."

WINDING UP HIS LESSON FOR THE DAY, Mr. Balzano sites a personal experience before reminding his junior class of his famous Wish Book assignment.

"YOU'RE DOING A GREAT JOB!" comments Mr. Balzano as he talks to Senior Marlon Cantu about his performance as a history aide.

THANKS A LOT, PAL. Mr. Balzano gets a hand from Mr. Ferguson as he prepares his 1st semester history exams for juniors.

A FINAL LOOK

Seniors express their gratitude to their Alma Mater as they prepare to leave high school

The senior class of '87 has experienced four spectacular years here at Cathedral High. As freshmen, the class of '87 had very little spirit to show since they were strangers in a strange new environment full of infinite possibilities. They needed someone to help them bring out their spirit and let everyone see it. Under the strong leadership of Br Jaime, during the class of '87's sophomore year, their pride and spirit emerged showing that they were, and still are, faithful and dedicated Phantoms. They developed a class motto to show their spirit.

"Faith! Courage! Enthusiasm!" they cried during rallies and during other school events. They received their class jackets which added to their pride and spirit. Their spirit was glowing radiantly and everyone felt its effect. During their junior year, they had two unforgettable experiences. They received their class rings, a truly memorable occasion. Their Junior Ring Ceremony brought them a deeper meaning to their dedication and spirit in Cathedral. They also had a retreat which enabled them to reveal their personal, and sometimes painful, experiences. Although they were only a class of 85 students, they demonstrated their class spirit at rallies, dances and masses. Such events as their dances, rallies, their prom, and graduation will be special and unforgettable to them after they leave Cathedral. Cathedral has been a special place in the hearts and minds of this year's seniors, and they would like to say, "Thanks for everything Cathedral!"

The Christian Brothers'

During the past 60 years, the Christian Brothers have taught at Cathedral High School. Some Brothers that have taught here also graduated from Cathedral. Their unselfish commitment to the needs of the Cathedral student have been most appreciated, and have brought about 60 years of Cathedral with hundreds of honored students paving the way for a reputation of academic excellence and brotherhood. Today, the Christian Brothers continue to guide the education of the fine young men who attend Cathedral. They continue the work that the founding Brothers started a little over 60 years ago. Cathedral High School wishes to thank the current staff (Bros. Dan, Michael, Glenn, Armand, LaSalle, Robb, Xavier, and Martin, the principal) and future staffs of Brothers for their dedicated and honorable commitment to Cathedral High School, and all that it stands for.

Few But Proud

On February 4, 1986, the Sophomore class brought new life to CHS when it became part of the Cathedral Family. Because the class is a small one, it has to try much harder to be heard and recognized. Although the cheers are sometimes drowned by the cheers of the larger classes, the Sophomores still continue to show spirit and love for the school. The Sophomores stand tall and fight hard for their goals; they are the class of 1989. Few but proud. The Sophomore class members deserve recognition for they have proved triumphantly that the greatest things do come in small packages.

Cathedral

Vigorous And Strong

It is difficult to believe that one year has already passed. This year has provided the Freshmen Class of '90 with a multiplicity of gratifying experiences about being part of the Cathedral family. Many Freshmen came to Cathedral not knowing what to expect but these proud Freshmen have adapted themselves very well to Cathedral life. Members of the Freshmen class have gotten involved in social activities. Their participation in sports and other social activities has shown their determination to gain recognition and respect for their class.

Besides their academic life at Cathedral, Freshmen have discovered another important aspect: sports. Although they didn't have a successful season in football, they have shown super athletic talents and these skills will be conducive toward improving the Cathedral athletic department. Raul Baltazar, Frank Olivar, Juan Valdez, and Victor Gamboa are but a few examples of Freshmen with promising athletic potential.

Socializing is a major aspect of being a teenager, that is why the freshmen class have been actively preparing plans for outings with various girl schools, Bishop Conaty, Sacred Heart of Jesus, and Mission. Through the outings, the freshmen will have fun as well as to strengthen bonds of friendship with each other as well as with the girls.

Although the Freshmen class did not know what to expect at the beginning of the year, it has had a tremendously successful year. Just as the Freshmen have endeavored to make this a memorable year successful, it is expected that they will continue their success for years to come.

Math

In Ureno's class, it was the quest to drop old, "wimpy" habits and become real men . . . In Ms. Salas' class, it was delving deep into the mysteries of Algebra and Geometry — taking intellectual ideas to new heights.

If computer mathematics was the case, your man is Mike Trafecanty, and, for higher math, Mr. Jimenez. Anyway you put it, Mathematics is a very thoroughly covered subject in the Phantom curriculum. Many an aspiring mathematician got his start at Cathedral . . . and with a mentor demigod like Mr. Ureno, who could blame them? — Steve Graft

be Active

Incredible enthusiasm for the activities offered by the Math Club has attracted a large number of students to join this well established club. In its third year, the Math Club acquired its greatest population. Thus, Mrs. Salas and the officers (Hector Cuevas, Francis Fong, Phillip Delpozo) divided the group into two, so the members could be accommodated during meetings.

Despite the temporary separation, the club still functioned dynamically as one unit. With its newest and biggest profit maker, the Coke machine, the Math Club launched several field trips and contests with expenses and prizes largely provided for by soda profits.

Two major field trips with the Computer Club took curious and fun-seeking members to educational and entertaining spots. These students first visited Griffith Observatory for a special presentation on earthquakes and for exploring scientific displays. To Sophomore Armando Cortes, that trip was "really nice," and he feels "more prepared for earthquakes in the future."

The second and last trip brought 50 students to Museum of Science and Industry, where they played with computers, amused themselves with exhibits, and watched two presentations (including one in 3D) in the IMAX theater.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS HIGH SCHOOL

The science club ventured out on various trips to museums and other scientific institutions. The club members show a zest to learn more about the environment of the Earth. From this club was formed the CHS Rocketeers. Some of the most eventful moments of the science club were spent in the desert where many overnight trips were regularly scheduled. This year's club was composed mostly of juniors.

Once a subdivision of the Science Club, the Cathedral Rocketeer Club developed into a separate entity under the moderatorship of Br. Dan. Members of this club build and launch model rockets which can threaten birds and low-flying aircraft at altitudes exceeding 1000 feet. Many of the members (and the moderator) had no previous experience in rocket construction and launch, but by the end of the school year, all had several minutes of actual flight time under their belts.

Because their mini-missiles were a hazard to unwary bystanders and freeway traffic, the rocketeers were forced to seek uncrowded desert locales to practice their sport. Lucerne Dry Lake became their launch center. As the white trails of solid rocket fuel exhaust patterned across the clear desert skies, rocketeers waited anxiously for the parachutes to open and the would-be spacecrafts to gently return to Earth, however, crises did occur when parachutes tangled and the rockets plummeted, spiraling to the desert floor.

Two of the desert outings were camp-out experiences complete with night launches and coyote choruses. As rocketeers tended the campfire, Br. Dan would think of ways to get the van unstuck from the desert sands.

Although this club raised no funds this year, all had a good time. The expert leadership of its officers, Jesse Amarillas (president), Moises Ramirez (vice-president), and Eddie Angulo (secretary-treasurer), provided all members an opportunity to rise above the ordinary.

The Rally Club in Trying Times

Under the leadership of Brother Martin, The Rally Club tried to resurrect the sunken Cathedral spirit. The main objective of the Club this year was to put on a really successful rally that would top all others. Due to the unavailability and uncooperativeness of the moderator, Brother Martin, and the absence of the Great One, Brother Phil, the struggle for success was a hard one. Only the persistence and dedication by leaders, Cesar Rodriguez and Bro Jaime, helped the efforts reach a slight-realization.

Excellent performances by Martin Ayala, Cesar Rodriguez, Tony Bryant, and Steve Graff punctuated the season with bright spots, but the writing and ineffective props made these seem minimal.

The important point is, recognition should be given where it is due. The Rally Club went all out for the good of Cathedral spirit. These people dedicated their extra time just to show their pride in Cathedral, and try to get the rest of Cathedral to be proud of what they are . . . Cathedral Phantoms!

Yearbook staffs call for the dedication, cooperation, and coordination of members in order to operate normally. This past year's staff, however, lacked these fundamentals for producing the annual. What started as a 15 man work force eventually fell apart as members dealt with other school activities, or simply lost interest. Because of this the burden of finishing the 1986-87 Yearbook fell upon the 1987-88 Staff. The brand new staff had to contend with the problem of finishing the Yearbook. Since only 16 pages were completed, the staff had to work hard, day and night, for three months to finish the unimaginable task. After day's of brain crushing workouts, and physical exhaustion the 1986-87 Yearbook was completed.

This school year marked a great comeback of the Cathedral Chimes newspaper. Although few issues were published, they carried an enormous impact. Because the editorial staff was fresh with new ideas, it furnished the newspaper with stirring facts and commentaries.

Only five students composed the editorial staff, but the combination of the work they contributed created the high quality of the issues. Hector "Scoop" Cuevas, the sports editor, updated the school with highlights from the latest games. Eddie "Torial" Lara stimulated the readers with his thought-provoking editorials. While Tommy Carranza revealed late-breaking controversies, Victor Madonia provided fashion and entertainment information. To add visual aid to their columns, Jorge Cathedral "captured the scenes" with his famous photographs.

For the first half of the year, the moderator was Ms. Vianello. When she left, however, the editorial met on its own on Saturdays as the student body anxiously awaited the next issue.

The Newspaper Club Under leadership from Ms. Vianello, this hard-working team of Phantomix with journalistic dreams turned out a rather skimpy, yet informative newspaper lineup for the CHS Campus. NEWSPAPER

Many of the senior members of the Christian Action Club graduated last year but did not paralyze it from helping other people. Through the leadership of Br. Xavier and the club's two presidents, Robert Jagielski and Martin Ramirez, the Christian Action Club has remained active and responsible.

In order to continue responding to the call to service, the club again supported the Red Cross by sponsoring another two blood drives, one in each semester. Students with sign-up sheets spent weeks asking classmates, teachers, and other friends to donate blood. According to Martin Ramirez, convincing people "was hard because they were mostly afraid," however, teachers like Br Dan, Br Jaime, and Br Glenn managed to "help motivate the students."

The Purple Machine!

Characterized by young players with little experience, the Varsity Football Team entered the season with the majority of the players being Juniors and the Senior leadership was provided by the All-Santa Fe League Team members, Vince Cabral (who received the Coaches Award) and Gilbert Garcia. The Junior All League members who played a very important part in each game were: Javier Lopez, Ernie Macias, and Joe Silva. This season, the team's league record was

4-6 and their over all record was 3-3

Running a new offensive strategy, the team opened this season with disappointing losses against Cantwell and Mountain View. With the team's morale slightly lowered and with some changes within the offense, the phantoms looked to The Los Angeles Baptist Knights for their first victory

Opening up with league game losses to Bell Jeff, Harvard, and Chaminade, the stage was set for the final three league games against Pater Noster, St Genevieve, and Salesian our old rival. The game against St Genevieve was the Phantoms second victory with a score of 21-20. The members of the team who put a lot of effort into this game were: Gil Garcia, Javier Lopez, Daniel Lorenzo, Mark Gutierrez, and David Bautista

The last and most meaningful game was played against

Salesian and the reason why it was so important was because both teams were evenly matched with a very good defense. It was with the fine defensive play of Ernie Macias, Eslander Williams (the most improved player), Joe Silva, and Christian Ramirez that held the mustangs in the fourth quarter. This defensive play helped set up the winning touchdown by this year's MVP Javier Lopez defeating Salesian with a score of 20-19

Even though eighty percent of the J.V. Football Team were made up of inexperienced freshmen, they held a league record of 2-4 and an over all record of 3-7.

During the Preseason, the team lost to Cantwell (12-7) and to Mountain View with a score of 24-23.

With these very first losses, the team gained experience and they slowly rebuilt their morale which led to their very first victory against L.A. Baptist with a score of 21-0.

During both preseason and the season, two very outstanding freshmen had to be recognized as two of the best players on the team. They were, Agapito Medina (best back) and Gustavo Castellum (best lineman).

As they went along, more experience and faster running was gained by Joe Diaz and Agapito Medina. Good passing from Aldo Sanchez led to their win against Bell Jett which was their very first league game. After this victory, their morale became stronger but the four league games proceeding their victory over Bell Jett ended in losses for the young phantoms.

The very last game was played against Salestan. This game fired up the phantom team with some good running from Agapito Medina. Both sides played tremendously well but the phantoms defeated the Mustang team with a score of 6-0.

Continuing To Be The Santa Fe League Champs!

Moving to the top, the Varsity Cross Country team had an extremely successful and glorious season. Once again, Cathedral's Varsity Cross Country team were the Santa Fe League Champions. They remained undefeated for the third straight year and came in third in the CIF finals.

The two Captains for this year's Varsity Cross Country team were two of the most outstanding runners on the team. They were John Trafecanty and George Reyes. John Trafecanty was this year's MVP and was an individual CIF champion for the second straight year and George Reyes on the other hand, finished seventh in the CIF finals.

This season, three outstanding freshmen, Frank Olivar, Victor Gamboa and Raul Baltazar ran on the Varsity team and it is from their strong will and endurance that gives the team a lot of hope for the future varsity team next year.

The two most outstanding games that were very significant to this year's Varsity Cross Country team were the L.A. County Championship which they won and the Santa Fe League Finals which was most important because four members of the team came in the top ten for all-league recognition. The four teamsters who were recognized as all-league this year were: John Trafecanty (who came in first), George Reyes (who came in second), Gary Loya (who came in sixth), and Raul Baltazar (who came in eighth).

THE J.V. CROSS COUNTRY CONTINUE TO SUCCEED IN THE SANTA FE LEAGUE

Following in the footsteps of the Varsity Cross Country Team, the J.V. Team did very well this season. This year, the members of the J.V. team were the Santa Fe League Champions and remained undefeated in the Santa Fe League Competition for the third straight year. Besides this victory, they came in first in the L.A. County Championship and came in second in the Mt. Sac Invitationals.

The team's major strengths, according to the team, are the young individuals who participate in the events. This year, three outstanding freshmen ran with the team. They are Juan Valdes, A.T. Garcia, and Gerard Salas.

The most challenging and meaningful game the J.V. team competed in was the Santa Fe League finals because six members of the team came in the top ten list. They were: Fred Es-cobedo who was this year's MVP (came in first), Juan Valdes (who came in fifth), Juan Torres (who came in sixth), Refugio Castillo (who came in ninth), and Jose Torres (who came in tenth place).

The Purple Machine Is Back!

Striving for first place, the Varsity Basketball Team did very well, coming in third place for all league recognition and holding a conference record of 9-5. The individuals of the team who received the opportunity to be on the Santa Fe League Team were Gus Martinez, Javier Montenegro, and Elislander Williams. The team co MVP's this season were Javier Montenegro (who missed being MVP of the league by only one vote) and Gus Martinez. Besides the MVP's, the team's most improved player this season was Robert Jagielski.

The team's major strength was each player's quickness, their shooting, and their team's defense. Another asset was the team's condition and this allowed them to win many games against their competitors because the Phantom team was in better shape. Their major weakness was due to the loss of key players caused by both grades and injuries.

Their most outstanding game this season was the first game played against Chaminade at Cathedral and this game was so important to them because the phantoms were outmatched in size and experience but they managed to stay with them and led in scoring most of the game. Kevin Black scored a last shot to beat Cathedral.

Special thanks go to Eddie and the cruisers and to coach Bean and Amos for the good times.

Coach Tim said that he was grateful for the Varsity Basketball team to have had two years of knowledge of the sport which acted as a foundation for everybody to follow. Tim also dedicated a few words to the team. He said, "We would like to thank Coach Bean and Amos for the good times. Coach Guy, you taught us both on and off the court, you're a hell of a man. THANKS!"

1986-87 Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders went to USA Cheerleading Camp in Santa Barbara on August 19-22, 1986 and came back with Superior trophy and Spirit stick. All the girls work hard not just during the football season but also during basketball season. Their dedication is an example to all of us here at Cathedral.

Eva Avalos — Sacred Heart of Jesus

Eva Avalos was a very and truly great cheerleader. She was spirited, hard working, and persistent for three years. She has been an inspiration to us all. Also, she was the 1986-87 Homecoming Queen. Eva Avalos: 84-85 Co-Captain (JV), 85-86 Co-Captain (V), 86-87 Captain (VI).

THEY STRIVED AND SUCCEEDED

Striving for excellence, the Varsity Soccer team had a most challenging and victorious season. They tied for third place and were recognized as All-League the first time in 15 years for the Cathedral Varsity Soccer Team to achieve such a record. The team's overall record was 11-5-3.

Since 12 Seniors are leaving the team, two very outstanding players, Ted Andrade and Joe Silva, give the team much hope and inspiration for the future.

This year's Varsity Captains were Elmer Campos and Jose L. Gastelum. The members of the team who were selected for the All-League team from the Santa Fe League were Joe Silva (Defender), Ted Andrade (Forward) and Jose Arceo (Forward).

The team's greatest strength that kept them moving toward the top was their defense. The defense consisted of five individuals (Joe Silva, Paul Gutierrez, Eli Acevedo, Gil Garcia, and Enrique Sanchez) whose toughness and power allowed only six goals to be scored by their opponents during the entire season. Three goals were scored by the Champs from La Salle, one by Chadwick and two by Foothill Prep, who dominated the league.

The team's most positive aspect was their "Never say die" attitude. According to the coach, the team never gave up and performed to the best of their ability and experience.

Their greatest victory of the season was when they defeated Chamunade 1-0 in their first meeting. The most satisfying victory for Coach Meegan was the game in which they defeated Harvard 3-0. Their most disappointing game of the season was when Cathedral and Chamunade were forced into a post season tie breaker match in which they lost 3-0.

Coach Meegan said, "In my opinion, at Cathedral this year, the team's performance was the most satisfying from a win-loss standpoint, but as in the years preceding this one, I continue to be impressed with the Cathedral students. I am in contact with both on and off the field. You are the true competitors, and being so, I know the lessons learned in sports at Cathedral will serve you well in later life. To this year's Seniors, my best wishes and gratitude for a job well done."

Just contrary to the progress of the Varsity Soccer Team this year, the J.V. Soccer team had one of its worst seasons.

The factor that kept the team moving was their offense and the team's vital weakness was their defense. The contribution of both factors caused the team's spirit and morale.

Their greatest match during this season was again Harvard. This game was most important to them because Harvard beat them in the first game and the J.V. team came back and tied the second game against them.

This year's captains were chosen on an on/off basis. In other words, they used the rotation method in which every member of the team got the opportunity to be captain during the season.

To the team, the objection of each game wasn't just to win but just to do their very best and have fun. During the season, they had a lot of fun whether it be calling Noonan Popeye or Chacku to secret meetings in the locker room to remind each other not to be "hot dogs."

The main members of the team who scored during the season were: Tommy Dorantes, Nacho Murillo, Sal Lopes, Jesse Barajas, and Ted Naranjo. The team's most outstanding defensive players were: Tommy Dorantes, Gus Gastelum, and Alex Maria. Special recognition goes to their outstanding goalie Jaime Romo.

According to Gus Gastelum, an outstanding defensive player on the J.V. team says that it was a very exciting and fun season and that soccer has not only been romantic for a lot of freshmen like himself. He expects the members for next year's team to do a lot better.

The J V Volleyball team did as well as the Varsity team, coming in third place in the league with a record of 4-5 and 5-6. The team's Captains were selected through rotation, thus, each member got a chance to be Captain at one point or another in the season. The MVP's were Joe Hernandez and Javier Gutierrez. The most inspirational player was Victor Sanchez, and the most improved member of the team was Mack Nunez. The players in this year's team brought much inspiration and hope to the future teams at CHS.

The young individuals on the team were a source of inspiration and pride. Four of the six starters were Fresh and two of them (Javier and Joe) had played on a championship team before.

The most challenging game, according to the players, was the CHS vs Chamula match. Many members insisted that this game was one of the most exciting they had experienced this season.

The team's good luck charm was their manager, Jorge Perez. The memories of the van rides and food fights will not soon be forgotten by the young members of the team.

There is much hope and promise for the program. Four starters, who had never played on a volleyball team before (Robert Gallardo, Roman Del Pozo, Ricardo Escobedo and Victor Sanchez) showed off a new found talent, and were a help to the fledgling Phantom team.

Gaining Recognition

Moving to the top in the league the Varsity Baseball Team won four games this season but the most significant satisfaction was beating Salesian twice. According to Coach Al Rodriguez, the team only lost to their other competitors by at least one point.

Out of the entire team, two of their best players remained outstanding in performance during the season. They were Edward Hano and Randy Trenado. Edward Hano was the team's MVP and was runner up for MVP in the league. Randy Trenado on the other hand, was the team's captain, Co-MVP, and the all purpose utility player. Besides, this Randy received the Coaches Award for being the number one best player of the team. Due to difficulties, Randy was failed to be recognized as Co-MVP and was thus not awarded. But on August 25, 1987, Coach Al Rodriguez presented Randy with a trophy of recognition.

During the season the efforts of certain players will never be forgotten and those individuals just have to be recognized. The most improved player was Fernando Padilla and the most inspirational player was Freddy Chavez who in many times drove fellow members of the team home. Special recognition and thanks go to their most outstanding pitcher, Victor Salaya.

The factor that caused them some difficulties during each game was their pitching and the factor that kept them moving to the top was their hitting.

The game that they found most challenging and satisfying was played against Salesian. Filled with their school pride and spirit and knowing that they were playing against a traditional rival school, made the team's performance very professional defeating Salesian 12-1.

Al Rodriguez who was an easy going coach and more like a Big Brother to the players said, "I just wished that I could have gotten hold of the team ahead of time because I could have had time to help the guys improve their running, bunting, and pitching. During the season, we have had our ups and downs. Coaching you guys was a real thrill and every member of the team came out winners and not losers."

Fair Start

Giving all they had, the J.V. Baseball Team had a good start in the season achieving a season record of 2-18 and holding a conference record of 2-14.

The team's MVP was Victor Duran. Their most improved player was Jesus Ortega and the coaches award went to Ray Soto.

The team's weakness was their pitching because the pitchers did not have enough practice. Their strength came from Victor Duran, Muelo Sanchez, and Agapito Medina.

Their greatest game was played against P.N. and during the game the J.V. team was losing until the last inning and they won by one run making the score 7-6.

Special Delivery! Freshman Jose Angulo throws a curve ball with a lot of power. Because he had such a good fast ball, Jose mainly used his curve to trap opposing hitters.

Catch This! Jesus Ortega throws a fast ball when he is on the mound.

1986-87 VARSITY TRACK TEAM

This year, Cathedrals 1987 track team had an outstanding performance. Thanks to many of our excellent runners, they were able to pull off a memorable season. John Traffecanty was the most valuable runner in the mile and two mile race. Jose DeAnda surprised the team as he held the short distance and hurdle race title. George Reyes, for four years has been successful in the mile and two mile, coming second to Traffecanty. And with the support of the other runners, the team was able to remain strong.

Our coaching staff has a lot to do with the team's success. Bob Fish, the head coach, drove the team into many of its victories. His final year of coaching the team has been very successful.

Thank you Fish! Lou Parlapiano, showed our runners what it meant to win. His dedication to the team deserves honorable credit. Mike Traffecanty also put his great effort into the team. Altogether we thank the entire team for running their best during this excellent track season.

George Reyes expanding from the pack. George was one of the best mile runners that CHS ever had. He also qualified to the masters race and came in 5th place.

Jose DeAnda taking the lead once he had gone over the hurdle smoothly. He came in first in 220, 330 hurdles and 440. He also qualified to the masters race.

Watch out Carl Lewis! Here is Marlon (name) in his successful style. He cleared over 22 feet and received the Good Marks award of the year.

1986-87 J.V. TRACK TEAM

Coming in first place and achieving a season record of 5-1 and a conference record of 7-1, the J.V. Track Team were all winners this season. Mike Cohen was the team MVR. James Crittenden was the most dedicated player, and Tommy Dorantes was the most improved. The team's captains were Jose

Torres and Angel Santiago

Beside this, the efforts of other members of the team had to be recognized, they were James Crittenden (shot put), Angel Santiago (sprints). There were other players who worked to great extents. Sprinters were Javier Navarro, Manuel Chavarin, Mike Cohen, and Henry Sanchez. All of these individuals helped to strengthen the backbone and structure of the team.

The asset that gave the team a little trouble was inexperience of the young members of the team. The knowledge they gained from their coaches came through. For example, Alfonso Esparza (pole vault) joined the team with little experience of the event but put a lot of effort and strive to be one of the better pole vaulters, with the help of one of his coaches Jaquin Arias.

Special thanks and recognition go to all the coaches of the team. They were Mr. Fish, Mr. Parlapiano, Mr. Trafecanty, and Mr. Arias.

WELCOME WEEK

Still hanging on to memorable trips, sweet romances, and relaxing times of the summer vacation, students, teachers, and administrators got Welcome Week under way to amplify the spirit of the Phantoms. This year's Welcome Week had been the first to include freshmen since Archbishop Roger Mahony decided to keep Cathedral High School open.

Throughout the week many seniors missed having the freshman initiation, which had been banned for safety and moral reasons. "We had found the initiation to be traditional ... a way to get to know freshmen," said senior Chris Perez, but the decision to ban it was good because "it (the decision) stopped hazing and prevented freshmen from being embarrassed by seniors."

In order to keep the students' spirits up, the seniors treated the freshmen with pizza, ice cream, and soda on Wednesday while everyone listened to the music provided by "Exposure."

The week climaxed with the Holy Spirit mass and the first field events of the year. Juniors and sophomores joined to battle the forces of seniors and freshmen. The enthusiasm of the two teams flared, especially as seniors taught freshmen how to cheer and as they emerged as the victors of the day.

As the field events concluded at noon, the entire student body, now with four class levels again, sang the Alma Mater in harmony and vivacity. "I thought my class would be the last to graduate from this school, but, thank God, that wouldn't have to be the case," commented senior Ronald Perez.

DANCES

Six dances this year brought the Phantoms to the hot dance floor in the gym to take a break from schoolwork and to enhance their social lives. In high-fashion outfits students came to dance the night away as "party animals," vanishing into the flashes of disco lights and the arena of loud music. Singles or couples, these teenagers came in search of excitement. Freshman Oscar Derbyshire said that he liked going to dances, so he could 'have fun and meet new people, especially girls.

One notable dance occurred on Halloween. Students and teachers as buffoons, monsters, fictional characters, and famous personalities rocked the gym for four hours as they held the annual costume dance. Senior Cesar Rodriguez wore the best costume

Other fun-filled dances included the homecoming dance, held yearly to reunite alumni Phantoms with their Alma Mater, and the farewell dance, held as the juniors' salute to the seniors

ROLLER SKATING NIGHT

You know what these three are looking for Amateurs and pros in roller-skating turned out for an evening of speed, grace, balance, and tons of fun at the Moonlight Skating Rink in Glendale last February. Organized by the prom committee, the roller-skating party cost the students, teachers, and guests $3.00 each.

From 7:30 until 11:00, the good skaters spent most of the time executing forward and backward steps around the ring in comfort. On the other hand, the not-so-good ones still had to brave their way through the warm-up zone before joining the rest on the fast lanes of the ring. Good or bad, however, they had their share of ups and downs in roller-skating.

To complete the excitement, door prizes, such as a walkman, a television, and tickets to see the Philharmonic orchestra, went to lucky ticket holders.

After a quick recovery, Frank leads his group to a dance session.

OREGON TRIP

Following the visit of La Salle High School students from Oregon, three seniors (Marlon Cantu, Kwong Wai Ming, Alfonso Quinones) and two juniors (Dennis Mahoney, Fernando Padilla), accompanied by Ms. Harris and Br. Dan, toured Oregon for eight days during Easter vacation. On this week-long escape from the smog, noise, and fast life in Los Angeles, these students explored the awe-inspiring beauty of the Pacific Northwest.

A barrage of new experiences welcomed these Cathedral students. They stayed in a Christian Brothers' house for their first two nights. They played golf and bowling, which were new to some of them. Instead of driving around an LA look-alike jungle of skyscrapers, Br. Dan and Ms. Harris took the students to Mount St. Helen's. They hiked for a mile (out of two) inside Ape Cave, the longest lava tunnel. As this tour group came out of the tunnel, the students got their first sight and feel of snow; they, also, experienced for the first time getting stuck in the snow while in the school's gray van.

The fun and new experiences continued as the students stayed with their host families. For three days, the students attended school, found new friends, and ate lunch for free (in a cafeteria with ear-splitting music).

When these tourists drove back to Los Angeles, they took along memories, souvenirs, and other living proofs of their trip. Fernando Padilla brought home a sore throat, which he "actually got from the lack of smoke." Alfonso Quinones brought the majestic sceneries of Oregon captured on film by his camera. Ms. Harris, on the other hand, got the satisfaction of having organized the trip, which she considered "a mutual benefit for students of Cathedral High School and La Salle High School" and something that "will hopefully continue in the future."

Brother Phil—selling his soul. "Sure I'll sign!" says Br. Philip Ginter as he signs his name to a book of the Christian Brothers. Bro. Phi held a celebration at his old home base, Cathedral High School, before the taking of his final vows of commitment to the C.B. ranks.

For weeks the entire Cathedral family had anticipated Br. Philip Ginter's return for his profession of vows in the school gym. Br. Philip's former students and fellow teachers had heard all about the upcoming event and had been delighted by his decision to share this special moment with them. For junior Steve Graff, it was the return of a man who represented the dedication and determination of the Cathedral spirit.

On the morning of April 26, 1987, alumni, students, teachers, relatives, and guests gathered to witness this perpetual profession of vows and mission send-off. In harmony they sang to grace the entire ceremony. They listened in absolute silence while Mr. Phil responded, "I am so resolved" during his examination by Br. Norman Cook, provincial in the San Francisco district. As the beloved Brother signed the accord, all those present applauded resoundingly. At the end of the mass, they shook hands with, hugged, kissed, and congratulated this man whom they admired so much.

To complete the day, the second and last family picnic of the year followed. Lighthearted guests enjoyed the rest of the day savoring delicious specialties of parents and competing in the field games.

"Welcome aboard, Phil!" Br. Jaime warmly greets Br. Phil as he enters the Cathedral Brothers family shortly after his final vows have been taken. Both Brothers have helped in the development and strengthening of the Phantom spirit in previous years.

Glamor and royalty in one night brought 91 seniors and juniors with their dates to a legendary ship for their prom. On May 8, 1987, these couples took their romance and passion to the Britannia Salon of the Queen Mary in Long Beach.

Having saved $210 to $450, these seniors and juniors spent $60 for the prom bid (which included a sumptuous meal, roses, and souvenir items) and the rest for tuxedo rentals, corsages, and classy transportation. In black, white, or gray, they came with their lovely dates in classic Mustangs, Mercedes Benzes, or stretch Cadillacs. They dined in style as waiters served Salad Queen Mary, roast prime rib, beef parmesan potatoes, and chocolate mousse. After the exquisite meal, everyone danced to tunes like "The Lady in Red," "From Head to Toe," and "Show Me." These twosome teenagers also strolled the decks of the ship in search of perfect spots for intimacy and romance.

The junior senior prom had been organized by Ms. Preciado. Br Jaime Robert Jagielski, Jaquim Charles, Alex Crona, Gus Martinez, Martin Ramirez, Tony Arnold, Niels Kristiansen, Markin Cantu, and Ted Andrade.

GRAD NITE 87

On May 29, 80 seniors (with or without dates) embarked on a six-hour adventure at Disneyland. From 11:00 Friday night to 5:00 Saturday morning, they joined seniors from 174 other high schools in an evening of pure fun!

In large groups or in couples, these seniors hooked themselves to the wild rides, new attractions (Star Tours, Captain E.O.), and live musical entertainment by Ready for the World, Glass Tiger, Bobby Brown, Nancy Martinez, and Wang Chung. Although these students might have been separated from fellow classmates, they all ended up at the most popular rendezvous in the Magical Kingdom, Videopolis.

Arranged for the 15th year by Mrs. Lupe Lopez, this Disney affair cost each student $27.50 (for transportation and admission). Mrs. Lopez, Br. Jaime, Ms. Harris, and Br. Xavier accompanied the students throughout the night.

The 87-88 Yearbook Staff: Doing the Nearly Impossible

This year's yearbook staff is a dedicated group of hard-working individuals determined to see the yearbook (or, in this case, yearbooks) in the hands of Cathedral students by the time the Class of 1988 graduates.

The staff completed the work on the 1987 yearbook, using the work from the 1987 yearbook staff, and utilizing the total group talent to gather information and photographs needed to complete the job. The effort was well-orchestrated and led by Juan Araujo, Jorge Cathedral, and Mario Muñoz.

The group rallied together in the true Phantom Spirit and had the yearbook ready to print within a few weeks. This was greatly due to the dedicated work of the staff members, who selflessly spent hours after school to get the job done right. The students performed with true determination and spirit above and beyond the call of duty.

This book is a well-written, well-designed record of memories. It takes into account all activities that Cathedral had on and off campus. Considering the amount of time and the quality and content of the book itself, the yearbook truly stands as a child born out of the unity and spirit of Cathedral High School.

Good Luck, Class '87 — A special group of young men. Sandra Gerard
